

Pie chart showing US region of residence for a sample collected via Amazon Mechanical Turk.

ANOVA for self-reported pain intensity for high vs. low temperature painful stimulations, across three different groups.

Linear relationship between pain facial expression intensity metric (PSPI score) and self-reported pain intensity, across three different groups, with error bands. Repeated measures data (high and low temperature painful stimulations) for each individual shown in lighter color. ANOVA statistics reported.